

A rare classical baithak

Indian Music Society of Central Illinois

Proudly Presents

PARAMPARA

(A Tradition in Music)

Sanjay Deshpande	Apoorva Gokhale	Pallavi Joshi	Chinmay Kolhatkar
Sanjay received his initial training in table from Pt. Suresh Talwalkar and is currently under the tutiledge of Pt. Yogesh Samsi and Pt. Vivek Joshi. He has accompanied singers, instrumentalist as well as kathak dancers and has performed all over India, US, UAE, Australia etc	Born in a family of musicians both Apoorva and Pallavi were initiated into music by their grandfather Pt. Gajananrao Joshi. They were later trained under the rigorous guidance of Pt. Madhukarrao Joshi. They have also received further training from Dr. Suchta Bidkar and their father Shri. Manohar Joshi. Their singing following the rich style of the Gwalior gharana but with an enhanced beauty of both the Jaipur as well as Agra gharana.		He is the disciple of Dr. Arwind Thatte and has performed with vocalists, tabla players as well as kathak dancers. A few eminent artists include Ganasaraswati Kishori Amonkar, Pt. Ulhas Kashalagr, Ust. Zakir Hussain, Pt. Birju Maharaj and Vidushi Rohini Bhate.

Venue: Residence of Lakshmi and Prasad Nukala

1308 Wicklow Drive, Bloomington IL - 61705

Date and Time: Friday 14th October 7:00 PM to 9:00 PM

Ticket: 10$ (Free for IMS Members)

For Information, tickets and sponsorship please contact

Prasanna Mate – 309-664-6043

Sameer Bildikar – 309-533-1486

www.indianmusicsociety.org